Introduction:

Multiculturalism refers to the way in which a nation's cultural diversity and nationality and community work together. People of different castes and nationalities living together in this society or in the same community are identified by their behavior. Here people maintain, express, celebrate and share their cultural life, language, art, traditions and behavior. Also, I can say that each person or people has their own religion, caste, tribe as well as their own culture. People of the same country but different cultures depending on the district. If I do a field study, my homeland is 64 districts in Bangladesh, in these districts I will surely find a mixture of different types of culture.

Now if I go to give examples of multiculturalism, I can talk about many of its steps, such as: dress, education, food, music, outward behavior, language, religious customs, beliefs, gestures, etc. I would like to discuss 3 issues in particular.

First: different foods from different cultures.

second: ,Language differences vary from district to district even though they belong to the same state.

third: Clothing and sexual multiculturalism

Now I want to discuss about food culture .Rice is the culture food of Asia. If I talk about the context easily, then Bengalis eat rice with almost all kinds of food. It is the food of Bengali culture. There are many beauties in Bengali culture. People of different cultures live on different diets. Some people like vegetables with rice and some people like fish with rice. Some people like it more or less. If other cultures of mixed people may be too environmentally friendly, they are too difficult to use and difficult to handle. The result is Miss Culturalism. Among Asians, straight again fried shakji and muslim and different sauces and your choice of cooking and this is their main dish. Different parts of China such as Hunan, Fujian, Sichuan and Qantiz have different views on the same food. Healthy-rich and quick lunch or sit-down dinners work equally well. There is no end to the aroma of spices and it is common to mention that people party at meals which make up the very composition of other foods in the diet. Also, it is the recipe that provides so much variety and variety in hard food. Also, the country changes the diet for every 500 requests due to the size and diversity. There are many other ethnic, regional and Indian dohar dishes, such as: Sa, Alu Parata, Chaumin Tikka Kabab etc. In European culture, which is known as the food of all regions of the country, almost one of the healthiest is to make wine for almond oil, fresh food, sharp shine cut and vegetable success, referring to the local shine wine. Known for its fresh salad and cheese on its Greek menu, Greek cuisine is also a staple food of the Mediterranean. Whole grains, spiced and marinated muslims and soups are a part of Greek cuisine. It is known for its simplicity and elegance and is still healthy, Italian cuisine, pizza or 500 peaceful pasta, accepted by the whole world. The country does not have a region where a wide range of food is available.

Western food culture

Although English and Australian food cultures have a place of demand in the United States, the United States has changed dramatically over the years to meet the growing population of large immigrants. The food culture of the United States is a combination of all the immigrants who have established the lineage here. Although hambier, fries drinks are quite selective and still no one can see the presence of Finnish, Inter, Italian, Thai, Spanish, French, Mexican and South African valleys. I would also like to share a reality I have seen for myself. The purpose of my trip is to go to the Sunamganj and Meghalaya border. Then I saw a family of Garo and Khasia cultures raising pigs and also eating food. But this same scene I have never seen anywhere in Dhaka is a reflection of multiculturalism.

#language: in this addition i just tell about the difference between different country have different culture and also their own language .everyone have their mother language and they feel comfortable to talk in their mother language .There are many countries in this world and the language of all these countries is not one. All countries have different mother tongues. Because not everyone has the same religion and culture. Everyone has their own religion and culture. Such as: Bangladesh, India, Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, Malaysia, America, About the language and culture of Italy, China etc.

First, if we talk about the similarities and differences between the languages of Bangladesh and India. Although Bengali is spoken in 64 out of 64 districts of my motherland Bangladesh, there are similarities and differences between them. For example: People in Dhaka have called a boy. How are you, boy? But why did the people of Noakhali say Iru Bala Asat? This is where we can see the difference. Similarly in one state of India Bengali is spoken but in another state Tamil and Hindi are spoken. The only reason for this similarity is people of different cultures. If we want to talk about Pakistan now, we have to say that the state language of Pakistan is Urdu. When Bangladesh and Pakistan countries were one, we had the language and similarities of Bangladesh. Now there is no such opportunity. Because we Bengalis have gained Bangladesh in exchange for the lives of 30 million martyrs. And Bangali people established the Bangla language in Bangladesh. Malaysia speaks their own language Malay. Those who go there for the purpose of travel and they don't know Malay language will be a very big problem for them. The city of Mecca in Saudi Arabia is the land of the Prophet. The Holy Kaaba is located here. Millions of pilgrims visit here every year for the purpose of Hajj. This country has its own language and that is Arabic. China people speaking in Mandarin, I also use a link here for details in Chinese language. If now I'm talking about the Italy language Italian use Romance language. And lastly I just tell about American language American have many types language like general American language, north American language, Southern_American_English, and here we see the differences between countries to countries language culturalism. The world is multiculturalism country .

lastly i describe about clothes and sexually multiculturalism.If I were to talk about dress code and sexual multiculturalism now, I would like to say here first. Religious attire has a visually pleasing content in Muslim society. As well as other religious customs there are differences of dress according to different cultures. Here, first of all, if I talk about the clothes of Muslim men. Then there must be the use of Punjabi and pajamas in the intervening period of Jubba and later. Although both Bengali men wear this dress. Muslim men go to prayers wearing this dress. Even though Bengalis wear lungi and genji as their main garments, both shirts and pants are worn to keep pace with the modern age. Now if we discuss the multicultural dress of women, veiled women will wear burqa, hijab according to their religious customs. Depending on the religion, Bengali women again wear sari, salwar kameez, fork etc.

However, there are many differences between regions and countries. Each society discusses it, or expresses an opinion, in a different way and with different perspectives. And as a result of this dress, especially women have to be the victims of sexual harassment. On the other hand, they have to face harsh comments.If we talk about western countries then we can easily see some real examples. I myself am deeply involved with some of them.

Fact 1: When I first went on a trip to India with my friends, I first saw middle-aged girls wearing kamij and pajamas, but there was no use of long protection of dress for them. Which is not in line with my culture so I am quite curious about it.and I feel very much shy to see this. because of our country don't have that type of issues or sceneries . maybe that's why I was very much curious and excited .

Scenario 2: My cousin is a citizen of Europe. He gave me a video call one day while I was talking. I saw him standing on a main road talking .and that time I see a lady kissing a young man in public. and easilyI made a bad comment. that time my brother tell me that these are common and open everyday scenes here because it is their culture.

Also in my personal life my communication and technology subject teacher one day in a classroom discussion said that a few days ago the someones parents and their daughter child living outside the country and citizen of that country.her daughter lived a boy together in that country and when parents know that in the daughter in Bangladesh came and took the prisoner wanted to marry another boy. The girl somehow called 999 and brought the police and left the country again.

From this it is understood that as a result of multiculturalism they enjoyed the facilities of that country but did not accept the activities properly.

Lastly I just talked about our countries chakma ,marma ,garo ,shaotal community.they have own culture and own clothes.when we go to Sylhet or khargrachari for travel that time we see that communities people and their own culture and traditions.

In conclusion if I say, What did I say about multiculturalism? What did I describe?

In this discussion I have explained the differences between the languages of many cultures, the differences in place, thought, behavior, planning, religious, social customs. As well as collecting information from many sites I wanted to add more information but it was not possible due to word limitations. And as a result of multiculturalism, it is also understood that the scenery, the language, the food, the clothes that make you think hard and have a common opinion, are again easily known to me, so I can say that this multiculturalism is a combination of all these things.
